

Index

- Abbey Theatre: and African Americans 16, 17, 18; and Carolina Playmakers 109n.1; and controversy 1, 16, 17, 21, 89, 97; and Little Theatre movement 14, 109n.1; and stereotypes 12, 14, 89; and Synge 17; tours United States 1, 2, 16, 21, 23. See also Irish theater
- Africa: black attitudes toward 44, 74; history 112n.4; influence of geography on slavery 26
- Anglo-Irish: commitment of, questioned 75–76; decline of 30–31, 76; definition of 29–30; development of identity 30; rejected by Catholic nationalists 67, 86; revivers of Irish culture 33, 37, 38–39, 76; similarity to Southern slaveowners 31; Yeats's construction of tradition 70, 76. See also Irish Catholics
- Aran Islands: folklore translated by Synge 55; material success and folk culture 91
- Ascendancy. See also Anglo-Irish
- Catholic emancipation: and Anglo-Irish 30; and slavery 10; impact of 28, 30, 34. See also Penal Laws
- Catholics, Irish: Anglo-Irish fear of 29; dispossession by Penal Laws 27–28; in Gaelic League 35; in Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood 42; Jews not considered Irish by 6; middle class abandonment of poor 40; nationalist activity 34, 71; pressure on writers 99; struggle for civil rights 23, 102. See also Anglo-Irish; Nationalism; Penal Laws
- Civil rights: importance of literature to 89; Irish Catholic 23, 102; Jews aid black struggle for 3; of nineteenth-century free blacks 28; and stereotypes 32. See also Emancipation; Prejudice, Propaganda; Stereotypes
- Communism: and African Americans 45; impact on writers 64; and NAACP 44; and New Negroes 37; and UNIA 44. See also Labor movement; Socialism
- Colonialism: common ground for McKay and Irish 20, 22; common ground for South Africans and Northern Irish Catholics 103; and racial meaning of word “plantation” 110n.1.
- Cullen, Countee: ambivalence toward Africa 74; meets Irish poets 18; and interracial influence 106; and racial identity 77–78
- Dialects, African-American: and Dunbar 57–60; and Hurston 62–64; and Johnson 16–17; and McKay 60–62; and shame 48, 57; and slaves 56–57; and Torrence 15
- Dialects, Irish: and Abbey Theatre 12; and Lady Gregory 53–54; and Hyde 51–52; and Irish Renaissance writers 47, 65; and Synge 17, 54–56
- Douglass, Frederick: and Jews 4; and Irish 10, 11.
- Dublin: and Anglo-Norman settlement 25; living conditions 39–40, 41; and migration 37; role compared to Harlem 16, 111n.11
- Du Bois, W. E. B.: black-Irish comparisons by 19; and black theater 14, 16; on

- essentialism 72–73; inspiration to younger writers 105; political stance 44; and propaganda 88, 113n.7. See also NAACP
- Dunbar, Paul Laurence: dialect poetry 57–60, 64, 77, 111n.7; and Harlem 34; and racial identity 77
- Dunbar-Nelson, Alice: Jewish character in play 9; and passing 112n.14
- Easter Rising, 35; and Irish independence 43; and Yeats 89. See also Nationalism
- Emancipation (of African Americans): challenges after 8, 32, 34, 57; living conditions after 28–29. See also Civil Rights; Slaves
- Essentialism: and African Americans 72–73, 101; and Du Bois 72–73; and Fauset 73, 112n.15; and Hurston 72; and Irish 67–68; and McKay 72; and passing 84, 112n.15; rejection of 71, 73, 74–75, 112n.15; and Richardson 73; tension with constructionism 66–67. See also Stereotypes
- Famine, Potato, 28, 34; and Catholicism 71; and Irish identity 69; and Irish language 48–49; and migration 32–33
- Fauset, Jessie: and African-American dialects 98; and dominant culture stereotypes 32; and essentialism 73, 112n.15; and ghetto realism 88; and passing 83–84
- Folk: and Abbey Theatre 12–14, 17–18; and Carolina Playmakers 109n.1; and Harlem Renaissance 14, 17–18; and Hurston 62–64; migration of 32–33; and nationalism 70–71; and primitivism 90–101; and Richardson 88
- Folklore: and Anglo-Irish 33, 37; Atkinson attacks Irish 52; and Lady Gregory 53; and Hurston 62–64, 106; setting of 39; and Synge 55; and Walker 106
- Gaelic Athletic Association (GAA): and cultural nationalism 35; expels Hyde 82. See also Nationalism
- Gaelic League: and Anglo-Irish 31, 75; and cultural nationalism 35–36; and the folk 97; and Irish language 49; and Irish Renaissance 50–51. See also Nationalism
- Garvey, Marcus: Irish connection 18–19, 110n.8; and Harlem Renaissance 41; and Ku Klux Klan 45; and racial pride 36, 44; and UNIA 18, 38, 44–45
- Gregory, Lady Augusta: and Abbey Theatre 12, 14, 21; and African Americans 21, 23; and dialect literature 52–54, 55, 56; and dominant culture stereotypes 12, 14, 32; and Synge 55, 56
- Gregory, Montgomery: and African-American theater 7; and Octoroon 10–11
- Griffith, Arthur: and Jews 5, 8; and African Americans 10; and Synge 99. See also Nationalism
- Harlem: racism in 3, 41, 111n.13; as black mecca 6, 16, 38, 44, 111n.11, 111n.13; migration to 33–34, 40–41
- Hughes, Langston: and black self-hatred 75, 80; and Carolina Playmakers 109n.1; and Hurston 62–63; and Du Bois 107; and the folk 99–100; and interracial influence 107; and intraracial influence 105; and Jews 113n.8; and primitivism 94
- Hurston, Zora Neale: and Carolina Playmakers 109n.1; and dialect literature 48, 62–65; and essentialism 72; and the folk 93, 94, 95; and intraracial influence 105; and Jews 8–9, 109n.3; and primitivism 93, 94; and Walker 105; and white African Americanists 104–5
- Hyde, Douglas: and dialect literature 51–52, 53; and Gaelic League 35, 50–51; and Irish language 49–51, 52; and Jews 6; and primitivism 90–91; and Synge 55; and West Britonism 80–81, 82
- Independence, Irish: and African Americans 18–19, 20; and Anglo-Irish 76; Home Rule 30, 34, 42, 43; Irish Free State 19, 43
- Irish Americans: and African Americans 2, 12, 21–23, 109n.1; and Playboy of the Western World 1
- Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood (IRB): and Anglo-Irish 31; blood sacrifice rhetoric of 42–43; and cultural nationalism 35–36; growth of 42; and moderate nationalists 111n.14. See also Nationalism; Pearse.

- Jews, 2–9, 41, 113n.8; and African Americans 3–5, 6, 7, 8–9, 41, 113n.8; anti-Semitism 3, 4–5, 5, 41, 113n.8; and Irish 5–6, 6–8
- Johnson, James Weldon: and dialect poetry 16–17, 48, 56, 57; and the folk 94–95; and Jews 4–5; and NAACP 44; and passing 83–84; and primitivism 94–95; and Torrence 15
- Joyce, James: and Jews 5, 7–8; and West Britonism 81–82
- Labor movement: and Connolly 43; and Easter Rising 43; Irish Transport Workers' strike 40; American labor unions 45. See also Communism; Socialism
- Language, Irish 110n.2; and African Americans 21; and Anglo-Normans 25; battle over 52–53, 81; decline of 48–49; and Gaelic League 35; and Hyde 6, 49–51; Irish perception of 48–49, 50, 97; and Jews 6; and Synge 55
- Larsen, Nella: and passing 83–84; and racial identity 85
- Locke, Alain: and Hurston 64; and Irish 7, 16, 17–18; and Jews 6; and primitivism 94
- McKay, Claude: and dialect literature 60–62; and Du Bois 105; and essentialism 72; and Fauset 88; and intraracial influence 105; and Irish 20, 21–23; and Jews 4–5; and New Negroes 36; and primitivism 95–97
- Minstrel shows: and African-American dialects 57; and Boucicault 10; Hurston and Hughes and 62; and Ireland 23
- NAACP: and Jews 3; moves to Harlem 38; political position of 44; problems of 44. See also Du Bois; Urban League
- Nast, Thomas: black-Irish comparison 12–13, 31–32. See also Pseudo-science
- Nationalism: and African Americans 10, 20, 21, 37, 44; and Anglo-Irish 30–31, 67–68, 75, 86; cultural 35–36; and cultural identity 67–68, 110n.3; eclecticism 2, 5, 11; and the folk 70–71, 97, 98–99; and Irish independence 42–43, 102; and Jews 6, 8; and Joyce 8; and language 48, 50; and religion 112n.5; and stereotypes 89; and Synge 56; and urban blight 39–40; and West Britonism 80, 81–82. See also Easter Rising; Gaelic Athletic Association (GAA); Gaelic League; Griffith; Irish Catholics; Irish Parliamentary Party; Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood (IRB); Parnell; Pearse; Sinn Fein
- New Negro: definition 36–37; growth of 19; political activity 37, 43; role of Harlem 16
- O'Connell, Daniel: and African Americans 10; and Irish language 48
- Parliamentary Party, Irish: and Anglo-Irish 31; and Home Rule 42; and Parnell 34. See also Nationalism; Parnell
- Parnell, Charles Stewart: compared to Moses 5; and Joyce 8; political collapse 34–35, 43; post-Parnell politics 35, 42. See also Irish Parliamentary Party; Nationalism
- Pearse, Patrick: blood sacrifice rhetoric of 42–43; and Connolly 43; and Irish Renaissance 50, 56, 111n.6; and religion 71, 112n.5; view of history 69–70. See also Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood (IRB); Nationalism
- Penal Laws: comparison to South Africa 110n.5; contents of 27; impact of 28, 29; repeal of 28; success and failure of 27–28. See also Catholic emancipation; Irish Catholics
- Prejudice: and essentialism 72; of Irish Americans 109n.1; literature and 14, 18, 21, 72, 89, 99; and passing 83. See also Civil Rights; Stereotypes
- Primitivism: in America 93; defined 90; demand for 98, 100–101; and Hurston 93, 93, 95; in Ireland 90–91; and Johnson 94–95; and Joyce 7; and McKay 20, 23, 95–97; and Synge 91–92; and Yeats 92–93
- Propaganda: and abolitionism 11; and Cullen 78; efficacy questioned 89–90; and Fauset 88; and Irish Renaissance 76; race literature 16, 78, 87–89; and Richardson 16, 88; and Yeats 86–87. See also Civil Rights

- Pseudo-science: and black-Irish comparisons 12; and essentialism 67; and stereotypes 31. See also Nast
- Richardson, Willis: and audience 7; black-Irish comparison 16; and essentialism 73; and propaganda 16, 88
- Sinn Fein: and Joyce 8; and African Americans 19, 20, 103. See also Nationalism
- Slaves: and Anglo-Irish 31; and Dunbar 58–60; and free blacks 31; and Irish 9–12, 19, 33, 103, 109n.1; and Jews 3; and language 26, 47, 56–57, 110n.4; and literature 97–98; living conditions 28; and stereotypes 32. See also Emancipation
- Socialism: and African Americans 19–20, 45; impact on writers 64; Irish 43; and Jews 3; and New Negroes 37; and UNIA 44. See also Labor movement; Communism
- South Africa: definition of blackness 112n.3; minority rule compared to Penal Laws 110n.5; wall murals 103
- Spiritualism 71, 92
- Spirituals: and Jews 3; and Johnson 83, 94; and black self-image 97, 98
- Standard English: and African-Americans writers 64–65; and Dunbar 57, 60; and Johnson 17; and McKay 60–62; and slaves 56–57; and Synge 55
- Stereotypes: of African Americans 22, 110n.4; and dialect literature 56; and dominant culture 31–32; and Hurston 62, 63; in interracial comparisons 9, 23, 31–32; of Jews 4, 9; in popular entertainment 62, 63, 110n.4. See also Civil Rights; Essentialism; Prejudice
- Synge, John: and Anglo-Irish nationalism 75; and controversy 1, 17–18, 56, 70, 99, 111n.6; and dialect literature 54–56; and African Americans 15, 16, 17–18, 103; and Irish literature 38, 110n.10; and Playboy 1; and primitivism 70–71, 91–92, 943
- Theater, African-American: and dialect 15; and Du Bois 14, 16; and Irish theater 14, 15, 16; and Jewish theater 7; and propaganda 16, 88; and Richardson 7, 16, 73, 88; and Torrence 14–16, 20
- Theater, Irish: and African Americans 15, 16; and Hyde 50; and Torrence 14, 20. See also Abbey Theatre
- Toomer, Jean: and primitivism 100; and racial identity 78–80
- Urban League: and Jews 3; journal reviews Hughes favorably; moves to Harlem 38. See also NAACP
- Van Vechten, Carl: black-Irish comparison 15; characters' attitudes towards Africa 74; depiction of Harlem 40
- Violence, racial: and black resistance 36; Ku Klux Klan 29, 45, 88, 95; migration 33–34; and propaganda 88; after Reconstruction 29
- Washington, D.C.: and Harlem 38; and black self-defense 36; as original black capital 33
- West Indians: and Irish literature 103; immigration to New York 41; McKay 60–62, 95–96; and racial identity 113n.5
- World War I: black attitudes toward 9, 44; and black self-image 36; and blood sacrifice rhetoric 43; and Irish politics 42; and racial violence 33, 36
- Yeats, W. B.: and Abbey Theatre 12, 14; and African Americans 20–21, 23; and Anglo-Irish 76; and dominant culture stereotypes 12, 14; and folklore 37–38, 51–52, 53; and Hyde 51–52; and Irish identity 69–70, 71, 76, 81, 82; and Irish language 50; and politics 34–35, 40, 89, 113n.1; and primitivism 92–93, 113n.6; and propaganda 86–87; and spiritualism 71, 92
- Young Ireland: and slavery 10; and Anglo-Irish 31; and nationalism 35.

Tracy Mishkin is assistant professor of English at Georgia College and State University, Milledgeville. She is the editor of a volume of essays, Literary Influence and African-American Writers (1996).